

Multi Level Training 2012

THEME: ETHICS AND PROFESSIONAL PRACTICES

Code of Ethics and Principles of Professional Practice are the corner stone of every profession. We transactional analysts are no exception. Our ethical codes are guided by our basic philosophy of all are ok; all can think; and we choose our life course.

MLT 2012 will mark a landmark in the history of SAATA where we all will get to meet, discuss and deliberate on how the ITAA and EATA codes of ethics could be adapted to our socio-cultural context. We will be delving deep into the following questions and many more:

“

- Which codes of ethics are universal in nature?
- What are the ethical challenges that are unique to our cultural context?
- What are the principles from our rich cultural heritage that we can integrate into our code of ethics and professional practices?
- Are the codes we practice equally relevant for practitioners, trainers and supervisors?
- What would be the consequences of changing / changing the current code?

Come; join us to co-create our own code of ethics!

Who can participate?

- TA Trainees who have completed minimum one year training
- CTA / TSTA Trainees who need mock exams
- CTAs and PTSTAs.

What will happen?

- Theory, practice, supervision.
- Plenary sessions, small group training, mock exams.
- Meet trainees and trainers from several training groups.
- Network with professional colleagues from all specialties.
- Widen our contact base.
- Gain support and strokes.
